RECOMMENDATIONS FOR YOUR STAY IN HACIENDA HERRERA

HACIENDA HERRERA TAMBOPATA

We understand that this may be your first time traveling to the Amazon, a remote and unknown destination, so we have prepared important information that may help you understand what to expect on your trip to Tambopata.

This guide will help you organize and prepare for one of the most memorable experiences of your life.

LOCATION AND ACCESSIBILITY

The lodge is on the right bank of km 4 of Rio Bajo Madre de Dios, in the buffer zone of the Tambopata National Reserve. It is surrounded by forest, on the banks of the Madre de Dios River. It is 10 minutes only accesible by boat from the city of Puerto Maldonado. It is 30 minutes from the airport.

CLIMATE

The hot Peruvian jungle, Tambopata has a tropical perhumid climate throughout the year. It does not have marked seasons such as spring, summer, autumn and winter. The jungle has two seasons: From November to March in the jungle is the rainy season and from April to September, the dry season.

During the rainy season there are intermittent rains that can last several days. The constant rainfall increases the water level of rivers and lakes.

The dry season is characterized by a lack of precipitation that decreases the water level of rivers and lakes and increases the sensation of heat.

VACCINATIONS AND/OR MEDICINES.

No vaccinations are mandatory by the Peruvian government. However, malaria and yellow fever vaccinations are suggested.

In the case of getting a vaccine, it is recommended to do it more than 30 days before your trip to avoid possible side effects or discomfort during your trip.

Consult your doctor before traveling.

ELECTRICITY

Hacienda Herrera has alternative energy based on solar panels, however energy is not unlimited. On cloudy days energy is more limited so we recommend you to turn off lights and fan when not in use. On cloudy days we have a generator that will ensure the availability of electricity until 21:00h.

Most rooms have type A plugs in the rooms and common areas of the lodge. The cabins and bungalows have type B plugs. In case you need another type of plug, we recommend you bring an adapter.

WATER

We use filtered groundwater of excellent quality for showers, sinks, toilets, and other lodge needs. However, as a precaution and due to the natural characteristics of the region, this water is not treated for direct human consumption. We will provide you with safe drinking water (purified) in your rooms and in common areas for drinking and brushing your teeth.

In this warm, tropical area, room temperature water comes out of the tap lukewarm or even hot (no naturally cold water as in temperate climates!). For your comfort, we have hot water in the showers in all cabins and rooms.

COMMUNICATION/PHONE/INTERNET

Satellital Wifi is available at the main house and most of deluxe bungalows of the lodge, it works with solar panles, that's why it's sucestible to weather conditions. Please note that our lodge do not have telephones and there is no cell phone service excep the port.

MEALS

The food service is offered in the Tamandúa dining room, where you will find local dishes prepared with fresh and natural ingredients, which allow you to learn about the culture of the region. We offer a set-menu where each guest decides the amount they wish to serve themselves. WILDLIFE

For your own safety and environmental preservation, food and snacks are not allowed inside of the cabins since they can attract the surrounding wildlife. For your own safety, do not enter the forest alone or without a guide or interpreter.
